Success Story

I have reduced taking everything to heart and reacting very quickly. There are times I felt low; I recognized why it is hurting me that much, and I conveyed that to my partner without any expectations. These are the major changes I have observed so far. I use sound therapy more; I can relate to it more than anything. I want to explore color therapy. And thank you, Arthi mam, for your support, and congratulations to the team for designing such a valuable webinar to support women and make them comfortable with themselves and teach us how important it is to put ourselves in the first place.

Thank you Pallavi for a heart felt feedback

10:25 am

Hi Arthi, i am so sorry. I have a planned release so i was in calls continuously.

5:30 pm

After the sessions I have started to follow sleep routine and EFT tapping practice. Which helps me a lot have a better sleep and stress relief.

5:32 pm

Even this time I got my periods and I was not worrying about that and felt happy that my body is healing and soon it will help for the good result I am expecting. I am also isolating myself when I there is a baby shower function and hearing others announcing thier pregnancies.

5:36 pm

So I am feeling very relief and relax which improved my sleep and my everyday routine. I can feel all this changes in a short amount of time because of you Arthi 😊😊 thank you very much!!

5:39 pm

I have attended last few sessions, and every session leaves you peaceful .. leaves you with a sense of hope. Arthi not just the session, there is a kind of sweetness and peace in your voice that just calms these tensed nerves. So thank you for the help and guidance. 🙏

Thank you so so much mam love you

9:35 am

The first thing I noticed is I got confidence and starting prioritising myself and caring myself like diet, workouts etc and coming about meditation I am loving it before I don't used to do meditation. Womb breathing and tapping is giving so much of relaxatin. Positive thoughts are coming in to mind before always I used to get negative thoughts. These sessions are making me to move front with positive thoughts really very thankful to you Aarti mam really you are helping me so much in this journey. Thank you so much mam and do please support me in future too mam love you mam 🙏

I would love to give a feedback for Ms. Arthi session's

Edited 9:06 pm

Mrs. Arthi was very helpful in making me understand the importance of stress management, sleep pattern and meditation exercises.

She ways very informative and motivational during her sessions which helped me to start my meditation sessions which I have never done before and keeping my screen away before sleep and in managing the mental peace within me.

I Thank and truly appreciate the efforts she has put in enlightening me about mental health importance in my journey and gratitude towards Arthi in supporting my journey.

I recommend to all my friends and well wishers to take up these sessions who are struggling like me in this journey.
